

The Complete Solution

Use Lectora Online to work with a team of users on a single project

Use Lectora Online to work with others on a single project, without having to worry about maintaining project versions. Lectora Online's version control system enables multiple users to work on a single title concurrently, while always keeping the title up-to-date.

Use Lectora Professional Publishing Suite for its media editing tools

Use the Lectora Professional Publishing Suite editing tools to create and edit images, screen captures, screen animations, audio and video. Take full control over the multimedia you use within your projects.

Use Lectora Online to store your completed projects in a central, secure location

Use Lectora Online to store your projects once they are completed. Your content will be safe, secure, and backed-up regularly. Should you need to make revisions to the projects, you can do so directly within Lectora Online and keep track of all changes that are made.

Use Lectora Professional Publishing Suite to publish to CD or a single-file executable

Use the Lectora Professional Publishing Suite when you need to publish your content to a format that can be accessed offline. Publish your content for delivery via CDROM or via an executable file.

Use Lectora Online to make your content available to external reviewers

Use Lectora Online to easily make your content available to external reviewers and subject-matter experts. You can add as many reviewers as you need and it won't cost you a single cent! Reviewers can only log in to Lectora Online, access the title that has been shared with them, review the title and write notes within it.

Use Lectora Professional Publishing Suite when you don't have an Internet connection

Use the Lectora Professional Publishing Suite when you're offline or don't have access to the Internet. Once you have created a title using Lectora, you can export it as a Lectora Online package and import it into Lectora Online when you're back online.

Use Lectora Online to track project completion

Use Lectora Online to track the completion of your projects. You can create assignments within Lectora Online and assign them to individual users. Users can specify when assignments are in progress and completed. Generate reports to quickly see the status of a title, the number of assignments that have been completed, and those that remain.
